Q&A

Meet Jacob Weaver, Hotel ZaZa's new corporate director of Food & Beverage

Q: What do you recommend to someone first coming into one of the ZaZa Restaurants?

A: Of course we are proud of our entire menu but to me, some standout dishes are our Gulf Coast Crab Cakes, Crispy Tuna Tartare Tacos and I am really loving our Blackened Red Snapper right now which we serve with dirty risotto and a crawfish and crab sauce that is similar to an etouffee.

Q: What made you choose Hotel ZaZa/why did you decide to take this position?

A: Having spent most of my career in independent restaurants, I hadn't imagined myself at a hotel until I stepped in to a Hotel Zaza. Everything from the vibe to the rooms to the company culture are unique and are very attractive to me. When I learned that there were plans to expand, the prospect was even more alluring.

Q: What can guests expect from you and your vision for ZaZa in the future?

A: I have reached a point in my career where hospitality and serving our guests needs is paramount. I know it sounds silly for a lifelong hospitality professional to say that, but there is no denying sometimes we chefs and restaurateurs get caught up in serving the opinions of colleagues and our own egos. I gain satisfaction and a sense of accomplishment by making our dining experience easy on the diner by providing intuitive service and delivering the product that our guests expect and desire from us.
