

Dine Out & Pitch In During Memorial City Restaurant Weeks

We're halfway through Memorial City Restaurant Weeks, and our favorite eateries are bustling with a happy buzz that comes from eating well and giving back. Choosing from all the special menus has been the best kind of delicious challenge, matched only by the warm feeling we get knowing a portion of the price of each meal will go to the Memorial Hermann Foundation. It's an exciting season: As the weather changes, our go-to outfits and skincare and hair needs are changing, too--while staycations near some of Houston's most gorgeous pools are becoming a must. Keep scrolling to see our staff picks for fresh looks and swanky stays, and find a list of all the Memorial City Restaurant Weeks participants and menus at www.memorialcity.com/restaurantweeks.

Liberty Kitchen at The Treehouse

We love the elevated coastal creations at Liberty Kitchen available on the Memorial City Restaurant Weeks Menu. Their iconic Loaded Deviled eggs, topped is a fried oyster and bacon jam, on the lunch menu is not to be missed. It's the perfect start to the perfect meal.

State Fare

The Chicken Fried Ribeye is the embodiment of State Fare's dedication to fresh, made-from-scratch Texas food, with flavors as bold and diverse as the Lone Star State.

Leibman's Eatery

For nearly 40 years Leibman's has been dedicated to bringing the best homemade salads and sandwiches to hungry Houstonians, so it's no wonder that they are offering their best dishes to support such a worthy cause.

The Rouxpour Memorial City

The Zydeco Chicken at The Rouxpour is topped with a creamy gouda cheese sauce, jalapeños sausage and crawfish tails. All this flavor AND we're helping the Memorial Hermann Foundation? We're in!
